

Publication Charges

Rivista Science Publisher is a self-financing association and does not obtain any rites from any foundation/government/society. Hence, the procedure of the academic journal is exclusively financed by the processing fees received from authors in the form of open access charge. It costs money to produce a peer-reviewed, edited and formatted article that is ready for online publication to swarm it on a server that is freely reachable without barriers more or less to watch. Scientia Praecepta is unique benefit policy where we utilize our work for the progress to explore in respective field. We take only the publication fee for the cost of managing the journal site, review process and open access.

For Indian Authors – Rs. 4400/- (For one entire research paper publication)

For Others Countries Authors – USD $65 (For one entire research paper publication)

Payment of Processing Charges:

There are different ways of depositing fees for the publication of accepted papers only. Further information is available on specific journal site